

About the state of hemocoagulation system in late toxemia of pregnancy in Norilsk

<https://arctichealth.org/en/permalink/ahliterature85381>

Author: F.I. Shamis
Author Affiliation: Norilsk, USSR
Source: Pages 81-82 in Scientific and Technical Progress and Circumpolar Health. The Abstracts Accepted for the IV International Symposium on Circumpolar Health, Volume II.
Date: 1978
Publication Type: Article
Digital File Format: Text - PDF
Physical Holding: Alaska Medical Library
Keywords: Hemocoagulation
Norilsk
Pregnancy
Toxemia

Documents

ARCTIC HEALTH
SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNICAL PROGRESS AND CIRCUMPOLAR HEALTH
VOLUME II
PAGES 81-82
F. I. SHAMIS (NORILSK, USSR)

Abstract: Late toxemia of pregnancy is a serious complication of pregnancy. The state of hemocoagulation system in late toxemia of pregnancy is investigated. The results of the study are presented. The state of hemocoagulation system is investigated in late toxemia of pregnancy in Norilsk. The results of the study are presented. The state of hemocoagulation system is investigated in late toxemia of pregnancy in Norilsk. The results of the study are presented.

81

78-02-72.pdf

Read PDF Online

Download PDF